

ABOUT DIANE ARMITAGE

The day Personal Development Guru Bob Proctor hired Diane as his writing partner, her extraordinary life began. For nearly 30 years, she's had the great honor of working with and writing programs, curriculum and marketing for Bob Proctor as well as many of the world's leading teachers in the field of Wealth & Abundance and Business Success. Her clients have included Jack Canfield and Mark Victor Hansen of Chicken Soup for the Soul, Les Brown, Michael Gerber and more.

As she's written, advised, strategized, marketed and created with and for these powerhouses, she's helped millions of people create lives they love, lives they deserve. And she created the life she loved, too.

Additionally, Diane Armitage created a leading global marketing agency, with a 30-year team focus on large e-commerce platforms, website builds and digital marketing for entities such as North America's Leading Real Estate Trainer (and practitioner) Craig Proctor, REI.com, TheBiltmore.com, RE/MAX International, Keller Williams and Patagonia.com.

A few years ago at Bob Proctor's urging, the protégée became the teacher.

Today, Diane mentors and consults as a Master Teacher worldwide, teaching a new Economic Philosophy built on Ancient Wisdoms for entrepreneurs, wanna-be entrepreneurs and global business leaders.

It's time for you, your team and audience to reconnect with the power and genius already locked within. It's time to create your life and business on your terms.
